"As a milestone, we will apply to NASDAQ around this summer and aim to be the fastest in the world from establishment to becoming listed by switching within this year. But what we are looking for is not the title of the fastest in the world. Many people say that the speed of our business development is fast, but we believe it is still slow. I feel that this speed is not enough to save the planet."

"In order to realize our corporate philosophy of "saving the earth," we need an impact that can save the earth. And for that purpose, ample funds are indispensable. Since financing via banks in Japan is not ideal because of speed and funding limits, listing in the US has been our answer. In the United States, DCF determines corporate value, and speed and scale are at the whole next level."
