

Post: Avoid buying Southwest US foods due to the drought

Created by Brittany Bunk on 24-Aug-2021

 Recommendation

 Animal Rights

6

0

0

0

Content

The megadrought is causing a lack of food and water options for wild animals and insects. This is causing the remaining edible plants that people residentially grow for food to be taken over by wildlife. To conserve water for the remaining people left, avoid buying products that come from Southwestern states hit by the drought (California, Nevada, Arizona, etc.).

Comments

Be the first to comment

