"Perhaps unsurprisingly, one of the most popular vegan pizza makers is Daiya, the company best known for their array of dairy-free cheeses. The Canadian brand makes a full line of frozen pizzas, which in fact are all gluten-free, so those with Celiac need not squint at the ingredient list. From classic cheese and pepperoni to fire-roasted veggie, meatless meat lover's, and mushroom with roasted garlic, there are pies for every taste. Frequent eaters love the thin, crispy crust, and the plant-curious might be interested to try the non-dairy giant's take on the cheesy classic."
