Coca-Cola's the largest plastic-polluting company in the world (or at least named that <https://www.forbes.com/sites/trevornace/2019/10/29/coca-cola-named-the-worlds-most-polluting-brand-in-plastic-waste-audit/>). Who created such plastic bottles to wreak such destruction: CitySky, along with other companies (like the Great East Packaging International Limited). You can read all about what happened here: <https://sec.report/Document/0001144204-09-022019/> . Even though this company contributed, it was the fault of Coca-Cola in the end to switch to plastic from tap (a 'fountain' - <https://soyummy.com/coke-bottle-history/>), blaming consumers along the way instead of taking personal responsibility <https://www.mic.com/impact/coca-cola-wont-stop-making-plastic-bottles-blames-consumers-for-it-21738837>.
