19 50 7 3 84

Background

There's many websites that work on issues (Reddit, Quora, social media, etc.), with each having their own style. Kialo is among those websites. Although it has its shortcomings, overall, is this site the best one to work on issues in the extent that it's the fastest to resolve them, delve into the 'what ifs', lay everything out, become educated on ideas along the way, etc.?
