

Post: Covid 'patient zero' was Wuhan market vendor, claims new study

Created by Brittany Bunk on 19-Nov-2021

 Article

 Health & Nutrition, Animal Rights

4

0

0

0

Content

Dr Worobey believes patient zero was a vendor named Wei Guixian, who had been working at the market and became ill on December 11.

He argues that the vendor's ties to the Huanan Seafood Wholesale Market, as well as a new analysis of the earliest hospitalised patients' connections to the market, strongly suggest that the pandemic began there.

"In this city of 11 million people, half of the early cases are linked to a place that's the size of a soccer field," Dr Worobey said. "It becomes very difficult to explain that pattern if the outbreak didn't start at the market."

read more <https://news.yahoo.com/report-identifies-covid-patient-zero-222338623.html>

Comments

Be the first to comment

