

Post: Livestock feed is a byproduct of canola oil production

Created by Brittany Bunk on 20-Nov-2021

 Video

 Transition

10

0

0

0

Content

Just because an ingredient is vegan in itself (like the oil of a plant), if the process isn't vegan (like plant waste -> cattle feed), then it's not vegan overall and should be avoided by vegans if they want to avoid supporting the animal agriculture industry.

Note: be aware that other oils may have this issue, it's not just limited to canola. It's likely that not every plant oil supports animal agriculture, and it's best to make it at home to insure that doesn't happen.

How It's Made - Canola Oil

Comments

Be the first to comment

