

Post: How animal racing supports pet adoption centers

Created by Brittany Bunk on 22-Jan-2022

 Article

 Pets & Animals

9

0

1

0

Content

originally posted: 9-24-20

Let's look at greyhounds:

Florida banned greyhound racing. What happens to the dogs now?

"On one side are people who say they stand for improving animal industry welfare practices while acknowledging that the industry will continue to exist. Such groups become bedfellows with the industry, if reluctantly so, because it serves as a source of adoptable dogs. In the area of commercial breeding, for example, some groups that call themselves "puppy mill rescues" buy dogs from the breeders they decry. In the area of greyhound racing, most adoption groups that opposed Florida's ban have supported or stood neutral on racing."

Read more at: <https://www.washingtonpost.com/science/2018/11/16/florida-banned-greyhound-racing-now-what-happens-dogs/>

Real example: <http://www.sanfordorlandokc.com/> - has a tab for greyhound adoptions

Moral: avoid pet adoption, unless it's rescues

Comments

Be the first to comment

