SUGGESTED PRO

Yes. Advancement in education is always needed. Let them learn and perhaps the teachers of the future will shine a bit more brightly. Boredom for a student leaves us looking as if trying to disarm the Good Guy. aka a bit nutty.

- Also, I found another really nice image that may work well for this debate, thoughts on pixabay.com

- @avada that picture doesn't say much (like they're staring, but at what?). How about this: www.pixapoods.com

- @vegforlife This looks good too. I found another one too that I like slightly more, what do you think about this? commons.wikimedia.org

- Oh and I also had some time to spare so wrote a background info for this too, with a few sources and all. If its alright with you, may I please add it? You can then go through it and we can edit it and improve it?
- avada (1.5k) · 1y
- @avada That looks way better than my pic. I found another pic even better and added it in, based on the one you showed me. How does it look? Feel free to add it in :)

- @vegforlife These do seem to be very nice and similar! I do feel though that for the one currently added the quality is slightly compromised (maybe in the uploading process). Lemme quickly try to add the one I suggested too and see if its a better quality?
- avada (1.5k) · 1y
- Have added it, please do tell me what you think? I will also add the background info I wrote, do go through it and we can work on it together?
- avada (1.5k) · 1y
- @vegforlife Hey! I just reread your message and I think I made a mistake. I thought you meant that I should go ahead and add the picture if I wanted to so I did!! Sorry if I misunderstood! I just thought this looked better quality!

- @avada No worries. We are making a lot of progress on this already :) It's good until I can upload it properly for better examination/determination of which works best :) How's that?

- @avada I don't feel either of them look good, although yours is a little better. I added in a new one. How does it look?
