Many countries have border control or exit lists to prevent dangerous criminals from fleeing to other states and causing harm. In the absence of boundaries, it is unlikely to prevent this harm.

SUGGESTED PRO

Border can be an entrance for dangerous terrorists and can lead to the possible harm to residents. you also need to belong to a place/ethnicity

Boundaries are just arbitrary (not realistic) lines that could be decided and changed at any moment. Never-ending changes could be confusing for people to follow.

SUGGESTED CON

Please cite examples to your claims. When did the United States and Canadian border last change? When was the one before that? Where those at any moment? When you say arbitrary you cannot mean there was no thought that went into the decision, do you? Then, what do you mean with the word arbitrary?

Land boundaries/borders should not exist.

SUGGESTED CON

In order to prove that borders should not exist one should first prove that ownership should not exist. However, without ownership we don't have trade, individual freedom or any ability to solve disputes about use of resources.
