Supplying the East Coast with Herbal Corn takes long hours, 13 team members, four commercial popping machines and roughly 52 tons of popcorn kernels a year.

It's a job the vegan company Little Lad's has quietly carried out in rural Maine for 25 years.

Five days a week, the 13-person crew transforms the kernels into bags and bags of the company's signature Herbal Corn, along with BBQ, Garlic Buttah, Lemon Herbal, Sea Veggie and Snacker Jacks, the lone sweet variety. But Herbal Corn remains the company's top seller, by far, founder and owner Maria Fleming said...
